Key Points of work carried out since last meeting

Príomhphointí ón gcruinniú deireanach

Student Charter

Myself, the President and the General Manager met to discuss the charter and I drafted a second submission that was sent to the Student Experience Committee. The Head of Student Life and Wellbeing has agreed to meet with myself and the president with the aim for the final draft of the charter to be approved at the next SEC.

Exams 101

The team and I went around each site with snacks for student sitting exams. I think it went really well and gave myself and the team a chance to engage with students and support them through a stressful time of year.

HERoic Academics

On the 19th of February I will be holding my campaign highlighting women in academia lovingly title Heroic Academics. There will be a small exhibition in EQ to showcase some exhibition women in Ireland that were the first in academics to achieve different accolades. I hope you will use this campaign to uplift your peers who identify as women and uplift the staff in the university that identify as women.

Academic Integrity Phase 2

Phase 2 of Academic Integrity will take place during RAG week and the AA team will be using RAG as a chance to get some data collection done on how students perceive Academic Integrity. This data will then be presented to the Academic Integrity WG in the university in a bid to encourage an environment of Academic Integrity.
